Specification

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

The following is a quotation of 37 CFR 1.71(a)-(c):

(a) The specification must include a written description of the invention or discovery and of the manner and process of making and using the same, and is required to be in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art or science to which the invention or discovery appertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same.

(b) The specification must set forth the precise invention for which a patent is solicited, in such manner as to distinguish it from other inventions and from what is old. It must describe completely a specific embodiment of the process, machine, manufacture, composition of matter or improvement invented, and must explain the mode of operation or principle whenever applicable. The best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention must be set forth.

(c) In the case of an improvement, the specification must particularly point out the part or parts of the process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter to which the improvement relates, and the description should be confined to the specific improvement and to such parts as necessarily cooperate with it or as may be necessary to a complete understanding or description of it.

2. The specification is objected to under 37 CFR 1.71, as the specification, as originally filed, does not provide support for the new matter as now claimed. The specification as filed does not provide support for "the soft rubber material coating attached on the bottom side to come loose from whatever surface it is attached to" as indicated in the amendments to the specification and "having soft rubber material coating on vertical surface of said recess areas" in claim 1 because the specification only discloses "the adhesive material attached on the bottom side ...".

3. Claims 1-6 are finally rejected under 35 USC 112, first paragraph, for the reasons set forth in the objection to the specification.

Art Unit: 3728

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 1-6 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claim 1, lines 3-4, the phrase "width and length" appears a double recitation of line 3. In claim 1, the phrases "having sufficient thickness" and "width and length" are confusion and indefinite because it has no clear meaning. In claim 1, line 6, the phrase "said soft rubber material coating" lacks proper antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 1-6 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Coy (5,062,531) in view of Balmer (6,475,432), Lin (6,511,031) and Eisenbraun et al. (6,637,617; hereinafter Eisenbraun'617). Coy discloses a compact utility holder (10) comprising a holding container (10, 12, 14) having sufficient thickness, width and length having a top (12) with a plurality of recess areas (28-34) having sufficient width and length, a bottom, and first, second, third and fourth sides (Figures 1-3). Coy also discloses the other limitations of the claims except for the bottom comprises a soft rubber material coating, the recess areas comprises soft rubber material coating on vertical surface and each of the corner comprises a radius.

Balmer teaches a holder (6) comprising a holding container (10) having a plurality of recess areas (8) and first, second, third and fourth sides with each side having a radius corner (Figure 1).

Lin shows a removable cup holder (20) comprising a flat bottom surface (24) and a soft rubber material (50) coated on the bottom surface (Figures 1-3). Eisenbraun'617 suggests a cup holder (10) comprising a recess (14) and a soft rubber material (18) coated on the recess.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art in view of Balmer, Lin and Eisenbraun'617 to modify the holder of Coy so each corner includes a radius as taught by Balmer to prevent sharp corners in the holder and the bottom of the holder and the vertical surface of the recess includes soft rubber material as taught by Lin and Eisenbraun'617 for better support the holder and for better holding drinking glasses, cups, mugs.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to 5/27/2005 have been considered but are deemed to be moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

The claims appear to have merely combined a number of desirable prior art features each doing in the combination that for which it was already well known in the prior art.

Art Unit: 3728

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

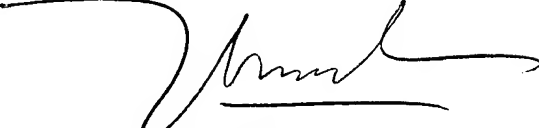

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

NEW CENTRAL FAX NUMBER

Effective July 15, 2005

On July 15, 2005, the Central FAX Number will change to 571-273-8300. This new Central FAX Number is the result of relocating the Central FAX server to the Office's Alexandria, Virginia campus.

Most facsimile-transmitted patent application related correspondence is required to be sent to the Central FAX Number. To give customers time to adjust to the new Central FAX Number, faxes sent to the old number (703-872-9306) will be routed to the new number until September 15, 2005.

After September 15, 2005, the old number will no longer be in service and 571-273-8300 will be the only facsimile number recognized for "centralized delivery".

CENTRALIZED DELIVERY POLICY: For patent related correspondence, hand carry deliveries must be made to the Customer Service Window (now located at the Randolph Building, 401 Dulany Street, Alexandria, VA 22314), and facsimile transmissions must be sent to the Central FAX number, unless an exception applies. For example, if the examiner has rejected claims in a regular U.S. patent application, and the reply to the examiner's Office action is desired to be transmitted by facsimile rather than mailed, the reply must be sent to the Central FAX Number.
